A VIEW FROM THE CAMPUS

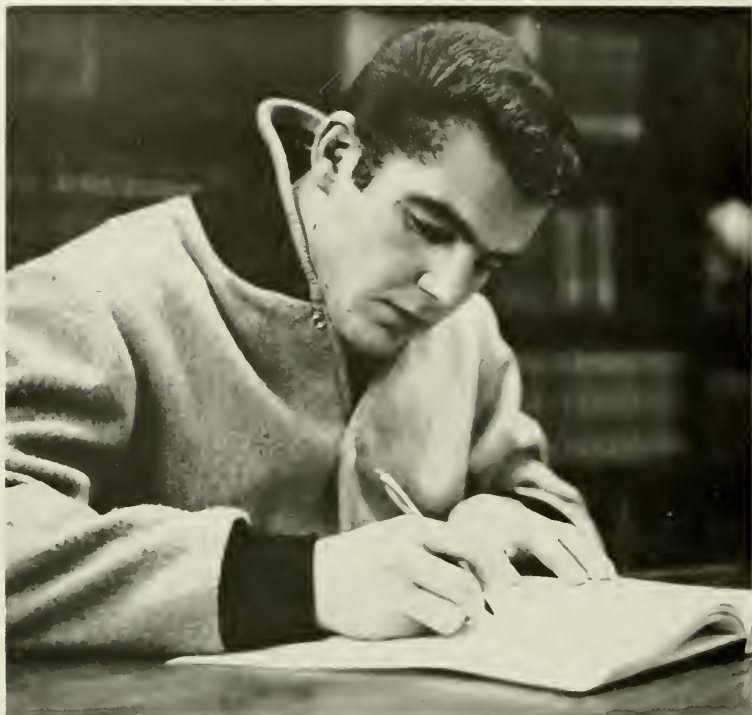

With a melancholy but contented ache deep inside, we view the past year, which has been shrouded in memories as the changing seasons work their wonders. After a long, lazy summer, students return to school with reluctance or eagerness, whichever be their lots. Jack Frost from his magic palette paints a blaze of color and nips at laughing faces as they enthusiastically urge the gridders on to victory. Snowflakes sift down through the towering trees and kiss the cheeks of carolers winding their way from Newland to East. Finally the sun peeps through and greets the crocuses as spring once again makes her grand entrance as the year draws to a rapid close. Caps and gowns are brought out, and seniors bid fond farewell to the campus, taking with them the golden treasure chest of memories accumulated throughout 1961.

FROM ONE END TO THE OTHER,

THE CAMPUS VIBRATES WITH ACTIVITY

New faces appear and familiar ones are welcomed again as the students start the year off with a bang—from Yosef's gun.

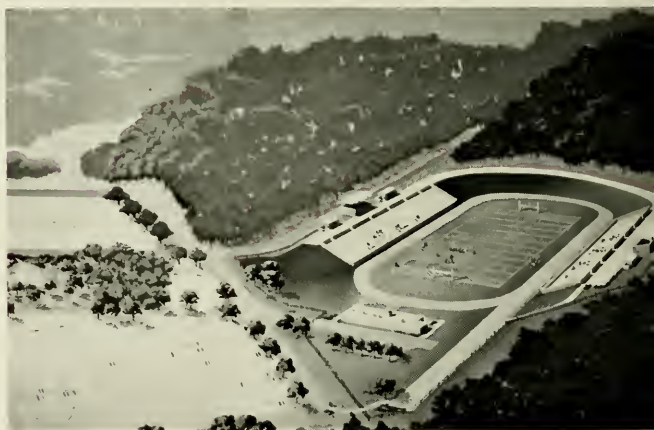

After classes end for the day, groups with a common interest or goal meet to form the co-curricular clubs and organizations. In the variety of activities offered, any student can find something to suit his fancy.

Bobbing cheerleaders brightly dressed and resounding cheers add color as the fighting Mountaineers defend their Alma Mater on the athletic scene, with all the vim and vigor typical of energetic college students. Athletics has become an integral part of Appalachian for spectators and players alike.

As every cake must have its frosting, so Appalachian must have a little extra spice to round out the lives of its students. May Day, Homecoming, Campus Superlatives, and Who's Who complete the picture and give credit for beauty, brains, and popularity.

DEDICATION

To a woman who has endeared herself to students and faculty alike by her tireless effort, unfailing patience, and strong desire to help others, we, the 1961 staff, dedicate with pride and devotion this RHODODENDRON. In return for all you have done for Appalachian, we salute you,

MRS. MAXIE G. EDMISTEN

THE APPALACHIAN

The Appalachian, a weekly newspaper, is published by a staff comprised of students who have a "C" average and who are interested in writing. Heading the staff are an editor and a business manager who are chosen each spring in a campus-wide election. In addition to membership in the Associated Collegiate Press and the North State Press Conference, The Appalachian maintains an exchange system with other colleges and universities all over the United States.

RELIGION: FAD OR FACT?

Each of us has a religion, regardless of the name by which we call it. The question around which the Religious Council centered that week's programs was, "Is religion a fad or a fact?" Why do we choose religion merely because it is a fad, or do we believe it to be factual?

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

A dorm discussion in Justice is led by Mr. Anderson.

The Chorus adds musical contributions to Religious Emphasis Week.

Boys in Newland take part in a discussion.

FOOTBALL

Ushering in the new school year in fine style was Autumn's King, football. The Fighting Mountaineers, under head coach Jim Duncan for the first time, roared up and down the gridiron with might and determination and finished the season with a 5-1 conference record and 8-2 overall, the best season since 1950.

Post-season honors were shed graciously and generously on team members and head coach alike. Duncan was elected Coach of the Year in both the North State Conference and NAIA District 26. Tackle Bob White made All-State and second team All-NAIA. On the All-American academic team was Carl Messere, co-captain. White, Messere, Bob Morrison, George Demko and co-captain Tommy Wilson were all on the All-North State Conference dream team.

BASKETBALL

Driven onward by vivacious, enthusiastic fans, the able Mountaineer cagers came out runner-up in regular conference play and were in the semi-finals in the post-season tournament.

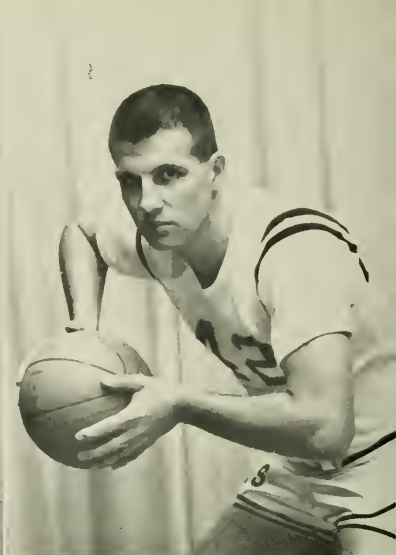

Two stand-outs, Rick Howe and Don King, represented the Light Brigade in all-conference selection. In addition to being honorary captain of the dream team, Howe was named All-State.
